Off the Bimah

May Our Light Shine Bright by Rabbi Jack Dermer

Happy Holidays. Two simple words that buzz in our ears and echo through our neighborhoods as the days of Chanukah and the winter holiday season quickly approach. Happy holidays. Two simple words, but what do we mean when we say them? For so many Americans, these words conjure up images of storefront lines out the door, Black Friday shoppers frantically searching for the hottest deals, and the mad dash to find the most up-to-date gifts and presents. As Jews, in particular during this season of Light that has been filled with so much darkness in Eretz Yisrael and in our world, many of us are thinking about the happiness of the holiday season a little bit differently.

The practice of gift giving, while a valuable way to share our love with those we care for, has little to do with Chanukah from a historical point of view. Jewish historians note that, with the exception of a little bit of gelt or a dreidel, gift giving wasn't associated with the holiday until late into the 20th century. That's because, from the point of view of our tradition, the joy we are meant to feel in these days is a deeper joy, one which can't be bought, wrapped, or ordered on Amazon. It is a joy, rather, that springs from the memory of the courage of our ancestors, and our pride in the defense of our Jewish homeland. Or from the faith that light can be found in even the darkest of moments, the resilience that allows us to continue saying Am Yisrael Chai, even in the face of the plague of Anti-Semitism. Or, perhaps, it is simply a joy from the glow on the faces of family and friends as we gather around the Menorah and watch young ones light candles which began burning generations ago.

In these days of wishing each other "Happy Holidays," let us be a little bit more intentional about the happiness and meaning we seek. If you find yourself getting caught in the gift giving frenzy, remember to step back and cherish what really matters in life. The peace and serenity that comes with a few seconds of basking in the glow of the menorah, the importance of Tzedakah the gift giving during which we help those truly in need, and the moments in which we are able to

The Heroine of Chanukah by Cantor Scott Sokol

When we recount the story of Chanukah, we tend to focus either on the miracle of the cruse of oil or the triumph of the Macabees. Both of these are important chapters of our Chanukah commemoration, but one that is equally important and typically neglected is the story of Judith. The Book of Judith is part of the Apocrypha, a collection of books from the biblical period which were not chosen to be part of the Jewish Bible, but were accepted in the Catholic collection. The Book of Judith tells the story of a beautiful Jewish woman who single-handedly saved the Jewish town of Bethulia during the Hasmonean Revolt.

The story goes like this. An evil general, Holofernes, lays siege to the town. All seems lost until Judith tells the elders of the town that she has a plan to defeat the enemy. They dismiss her offer as foolish and prepare to surrender to Holofernes. Judith tries once more to convince the elders that she can save them, and this time they reluctantly agree to allow her to leave the camp for one day.

Judith prepares herself for her bold scheme. She dresses provocatively and prepares a sack containing food and wine. She approaches the enemy camp and is immediately captured and brought to Holofernes. He is very impressed with her beauty and her prediction that he will capture Bethulia. She suggests they go to his tent alone and celebrate.

Once in Holofernes' tent, Judith feeds him the salty cheese she has brought with her. Holofernes becomes quite thirsty and drinks large quantities of wine until he falls asleep, drunk. Judith takes Holofernes' sword and cuts off his head. She covers the body with a blanket, puts the head in a sack, and returns through the sleeping camp to Bethulia.

The elders cannot believe that Judith has returned safely. She reveals the severed head of Holofernes and the elders place it on the walls of the city. Meanwhile, the enemy soldiers awake and discover the decapitated body of their leader. In the distance, they see Holofernes' head hanging from the walls of Bethulia. They decide that if a Jewish woman could

Press from Our Leaders

Press from the President by Nancy Marshall, President

By the time this article is published, Thanksgiving will have passed. However, as I am writing it, my mind is focused on what I am thankful for. You may ask? I'm thankful for Temple Beth Torah, our Temple Beth Torah family and our Temple Beth Torah clergy. As we all cannot forget, all too painfully, our world as

Jews has been turned upside down beginning on October 7. Many of us are keeping close tabs on developments; others are doing our best to avoid it. Either way, so many of us are taking refuge at the Temple, participating in all that we have to offer. I was speaking to one congregant recently and asked her "Did you go to minyan tonight?" She replied "Yes." When I asked why, she responded, "Because I have to. It's where I feel I need to be."

In fact, I have happily noticed more of our members attending nightly minyans as well as Friday night and Saturday morning services. I've also seen more of you attending our various activities, including book talks, Sisterhood events and Men's Club programs. I see friends reconnecting here at Temple Beth Torah. Some are still feeling more comfortable to participate virtually, and we love that too.

I would be remiss if I didn't give a shout out to Ken Maltz and all of you who have participated it donating to getting the Leatherman tools to the soldiers. These tools are being used on the ground as I write, a reminder to those fighting in Eretz Yisrael that the Jews of Temple Beth Torah care for their safety. In the spirit of Thanksgiving, let me say Todah Rabbah to all those who are coming together to share their pride in their Jewish identity and their support for our Jewish family across the world. We are doing our part, however we can, to help our brothers and sisters in Israel.

On a lighter note, I hope to see many of you joining us to celebrate Chanukah at our third annual Latkes, Vodkas and Laughs. For those of you who have not had the pleasure to be part of it in previous years, join us – you'll be happy you did. We have arranged a wonderful comedian, who will involve the entire congregation in improv games after a few I'chayims, of course. We could all use a laugh these days. Chanukah, the Festival of Light during the darkest season share our values, and our Jewish pride, with the next generation.

May this Chanukah season bring light into our world, and may we – the light unto the nations – continue to shine with the brightness of our convictions, strength, and faith, be so ruthless, they do not want to fight Jewish men in battle, and so the army retreats and the city of Bethulia is saved.

Rabbi Dermer

In remembrance of Judith's great deed, I am including a recipe for Cheese Latkes you might try instead of the traditional potato. See page 4 for the recipe. If you do eat these, be careful of drinking too much wine at the same time. You don't want to lose your head!

Chag urim sameach!

of the year, is an important reminder to all of us. In the face of rising Anti-Semitism across the world and ongoing war, these are certainly dark times. And yet, together, we go on celebrating all that is good about Jewish life. We light candles and come together to laugh, to enjoy L'Chayims, and to find meaning in our Jewish community. As a response to those who are filled with hate, we say Am Yisrael Chai, the people of Israel lives!

With gratitude, I look forward to greeting many of you at our upcoming events and celebrations, and please stay tuned for weekly updates on how we are coming to Israel's aid at this time of need,

Nancy Marshall, President

Sisterhood's Fall Events: During the fall installment of Cooking with Rabbi Kayley, we learned how to make a modern twist on a Jewish classic – Tzimmes Crostini – and, in keeping with the "spooky" fall theme, learned about the fascinating world of Yiddish ghost stories. Then, on Thursday, November 2, we held another wonderful craft night where congregants made a challah tray and decorated challah covers.

Solidarity Shabbat: Temple Beth Torah was proud to join with other Conservative communities across the country and globe for a movement-wide Solidarity Shabbat. The entire Long Island Jewish community came "together in song" on Saturday, October 28, after Shabbat, to support those in need in Eretz Yisrael. Temple Beth Torah was proud to co-sponsor, and Rabbi Dermer was proud to participate in this important musical gathering of solidarity and strength. The concert was held at North Shore Synagogue and all of the proceeds went to the UJA Federation New York Israel Emergency Fund. Together, we enjoyed a meaningful Shabbat and Havdalah of song in support of Am Yisrael.

Hatzilu Walk: In addition to all that we are doing and will continue to do for Israel during these uncertain times, we still need to think about our local Jewish community and those in need. On Sunday, October 29, all were invited to join us for our annual Hatzilu walk. Hatzilu provides food, financial aid, social work intervention, assistance and emotional support to Jews in need in Nassau County. Together, we walked through Cantiague Park to support Jews in our community in most desperate need.

The Jews of Long Island: On Wednesday, November 1, author Brad Kolodny joined us for an insightful and engaging talk, followed by a meet and greet, where he presented information from and inspiration behind his newest book, The Jews of Long Island 1705-1918. We learned the fascinating history of our people's challenges and opportunities through the generations here on Long Island.

Geniza Ceremony: On Sunday, November 12, we held a Geniza Ceremony where we buried our ritual items and Jewish books that are no longer in use in the traditional fashion. As the boxes of prayer books, Torah texts, and other ritual items were lowered into the ground, we offered the words of the Kaddish D'rabbanan, the Rabbi's Kaddish. This prayer reminds us that the essence of our faith and our continuity is found in the passing of wisdom and tradition respectfully from generation to generation.
